RIVER PLACERS SOON TO SLUICE YUBA RIVER BED

At this time the two draglines working on different sides of the sout Yuba River channel at the River Placers property, have about 12 or 15 feet to go before striking bedrock. The bedrock is quite irregular in places and varies in depth.

As soon as the bedrock is reached, which will be in a few days, the company will start sluicing for the gold. Development of this property is being watched with keen interest.

Mr. Edgar Poorman, one of the original owners, stated Wednesday that in the past, mining was not handled on such a big scale and development of the property can be accomplished much more easily, quickly and safely than with methods used in early times.

JIM CONS. MINE TO BE REOPENED

The reopening of the Jim mine in the Graniteville section is being undertaken by the Jim Consolidated Mines, Ltd., under the direction of C. S. Columbus, president.

The company has been busily engaged in setting up the following equipment at the property: A 150 cubic inch air compressor, operated by Diesel power, electric lighting plant, machine shop, boarding houses and office buildings.

This property was established in 1865 and produced ore running as high as $100 per ton before it was closed down when the ledge was lost. The old shaft was down to a depth of 200 feet.

Gus S. Alevander, of Bishop, California, wired fifty dollars to Sheriff George Carter and obtained ownership of the nine "Malamute dogs," which have been of great concern to county officers and state humane officials. NEW DEAL CHANGES BROS. BUCK PRECINCT

The Brothers Buck, who have voted in Moore's Flat precinct for well nigh on to sixty years, are peeved. For a matter of three score years or thereabouts, they have tramped four miles to Moore's Flat polling place and cast their ballots whenever election day rolled around.

Now for some reason, perhaps directly due to the New Deal, their polling place has been changed from Moore's Flat to Graniteville. It is considerable climb from where the Brothers Buck reside and they don't propose to scramble up those heights to vote.

However, they will vote. They will register in Lincoln, where they own property and near where they have winter pasture for their cattle.

Some enterprising candidate, who wants to save two votes for Nevada county, should call on the Brothers Buck and invite them to cast their vote in Graniteville, even though he had to hire an airplane to get them to the polls.

IF NO ONE ROCKS BOAT NORMALCY MAY COME BACK

Under the auspices of the Mining Association of California at a meeting in Memorial Hall, Grass Valley, on Tuesday night, interesting opinions of the status of the gold mining industry were given by able speakers. Fred Miller, member of the Grass Valley Mining Committee, called the meeting to order. Harry Sears, president of the Mining Association of California presided. Charles Gilmore, mining attorney of Sacramento was the first speaker. Gilmore protested radical and communistic inteference in industry. McKinley W. Kreigh, taxation and legislation counsel for the Mining Congress of America, after a birds-eye view of returning to normalcy in the southeastern part of the country, predicted complete return of prosperity if undermining influences were kept down by the thinking people of the nation. Nathan Fairburn, compensation insurance expert, spoke in behalf of the present administration of the state. Mr. Sears reviewed the conditions necessitating the monetary assistance of the federal government and indicated that loans could be obtained up to the amount of $500,000 on first class security at approximately six per cent interest per annum. H. R. Plate expressed his dissapproval of the Federal loan plan as he thought the mining industry should stand on its own foundation.

WEST MINES STOPING ORE IN HUSSEY MINE

Ten men are employed at the Hussey mine in Willow Valley stoping ore. While the Queen Lil mill is operating one shift at present, it is to go to two shifts shortly in order to take care of the extra ore being taken out of the mine.

While the vein is not so wide, this mine carries high grade ore and it is looking well. McCraney and Bettles of the West Mines Corporation are operating the property.

FIELD MAN FOR LEAGUE OF MUNICIPALITIES HERE

C. M. Pomeroy, field representative of the League of California Municipalities called on Grass Valley and Nevada City citizens on Tuesday to interest them in the League which is organized to further the welfare and interests of incorporated municipalities. Two hundred of the 275 incorporated municipalities of California are members.

Flotation units in the old mill are being moved into the new surface building, which was recently completed on a raise to the north of the shaft. Heavy machinery for the mill continues to arrive from Denver and it is expected the mill will be in operation in about a month. Ed C. Jacobs is superintendent of the property.

ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN CCC BOYS

A group with Rev. Charles Washburn as leader, from Trinity and Emmanuel churches of Nevada City and Grass Valley, motored to Camp Forbes, CCC camp in the American River canyon, Wednesday evening and surprised the boys.

After enjoying an excellent dinner at the camp the group entertained the boys with talks, songs and music. Rev. Washburn gave a splendid talk on success, optimism, and making the best of opportunities. Musical selections, solos, duets and trios, and accordion music were contributed by almost everyone in the group. Special mention was made of the singing of Mrs. Packwood, Mrs. Anderson, Matthew brothers and Mr. Johns, the singing of little Ronald Johns receiving great applause . HELEN WILLS MOODY WORKING TO ELECT YOUNG

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, former world's tennis champion and noted young matron leader in California humanitarian and welfare projects, has joined the forces of volunteer women workers supporting the candidacy of former Governor C. C. Young for the Republican nomination for Governor. Mrs. Moody stated here today that she expedited her return from the recent Wimbledon tennis matches in England, to take active part in the C. C. Young campaign.

At a civic reception and tea honoring former Governor Young, more than one thousand women acclaimed Mrs. Moody's introduction of Mr. Young as "the Governor whose deeds and achievements are known to every woman of California; and the man who must be returned to the Governorship, if order is to be restored from exisiting chaos and the ship of state is to be steered progressively, constructively and intelligently.

"The young people of California, including the men and women who are casting their first ballots for Governor, have heard much of the splendid record of C. C. Young as Governor. They will give him an overwhelming vote in the August 28 primary."

As yet the band has not accepted the invitation.

Some special features are in line, one of them being a display of wild flower paintings, made by Miss Ethel Wickes of the bay district. Miss Wickes has spent her summer in the Humboldt woods, making selections of flowers from that district. Her mother resided in Nevada City in the '50's and there is a sentiment attached to this section, for her. Her plans are to come to Nevada City next spring and paint flowers.

SUPERVISORS HEAR NO BUDGET CRITICISM

There were no suggestions or criticisms of the budget offered by anyone.

CHAMPIE FAMILY SEE WILD LIFE APLENTY

On one of the last brilliant moonlit nights Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Champie, who live at the Junction House, east of Nevada City, and up on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway, were serenaded by a big mountain lion, which they saw clearly in the moonlight, near their window.

A short time ago Mrs. Champie, while returning home in her car, was surprised by a young full grown bear jumping up beside her car and trotting along beside her a few yards then suddenly deciding to pass her. She was compelled to stop in order to miss striking him.

BIG WEEK END FOR NEV. CITY THEATER GOERS

A rip-roaring action picture is in store for Nevada City movie fans when John Wayne and Eleanor Hunt come to the Nevada Theatre screen tonight in "Blue Steel." Again John Wayne will thrill the spectators with his superb and daring riding and straight shooting six-guns. "Blue Steel" is a Lone Star Production so you know it's good.

On Saturday night lovely Elissa Landi comes to the screen of the Nevada Theatre in the Columbia Production of "Sisters Under the Skin". Miss Landi reaches great dramatic heights in her new starring vehicle which is based on an original novel by S. K. Lauren, adapted to the screen by Joe Swerling. Joseph Schildkraut and Frank Morgan are costarred with Miss Landi in this fine modern drama.

Reviving the days of serial thrillers, members of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Murder in the Private Car" cast performed a "stunt" that would have stumped many a professional thrill expert.

While a Pullman car roared down a mountain grade out of control, they made flying leaps from the runaway car to the fender of a locomotive speeding behind them, and emerged unhurt, but rather breathless.

This is only one of the thrills in the new mystery thriller "Murder in the Private Car," which will be shown on the Nevada Theatre screen Sunday night. It is a mystery story de luxe, replete with thrills and chills plus a lot of humor supplied by funnyman Charlie Ruggles as a crime detector and deflector. The cast also includes Mary Carlisle, Una Merkel, Russel Hardie and Berton Churchill.

Miss Violet Endicott, of Vancouver, Canada, is in Nevada City, visiting her aunt, Mrs. Cole and cousin, Mrs. Roy Packwood.

Miss Christy Jane Holmes, of Sacramento, has been visiting her father A. M. Holmes.

Mrs. Ella M. Austin, county superintendent of schools, spent Tuesday in Washington in the interest of her candidacy and to see about the opening of the school there this coming Monday.

County Clerk S. J. Clark, candidate for reelection, made a trip through Cottage Hill, Chicago Park and Forest Springs in the last few days. He is still actively campaigning for the coming election to be held August 28.

While Billy Kilroy, age 11 years, and David Kuster, 13, were panning for gold in Hirshman's Diggings Wednesday morning, they found a tiny old padlock. It has a trick spring or lock and no key was used. The handle of the padlock was badly rusted but the lock still worked.

Byron L. Douglass has under construction a 28x32 foot house with four porches. He purchased the ground in the neighborhood of the Oustomah mine this spring. His brother, Harry Douglass, is preparing to build a home just across the oad, the lumber being on the ground now

Coroner A. M. Holmes was in Truckee yesterday in the interests of his campaign for re-election.

YOUNG BROACHES MINE PLAN TO AID JOBLESS MEN

J. P. Hall, of Auburn, editor of California Mining Journal, one of C. C. Young's most earnest workers, stated today that the former governor is giving consideration to a gold mining plan that will serve a five fold purpose: Assist in the unemployment movement, bring complete development to California gold fields, give proper development to the state's mining department, provide an impetus for the manufacture and sale of equipment, and assist in the national program of adding to our gold reserve.

STATE HAS MINERAL LAND

At the present time the state owns a great deal of mineral land in addition to available federal mineral holdings. There are many other properties that can be easily leased by the state.

At the present time only the very best properties are being worked, due to lack of available capital and because operators have the opportunity of choosing from many. There are therefore thousands of properties in which private capital at this time is not interested. The best of these should be under operation, in fact, every property which will pay expenses should receive attention and the state can be made the operator.

MINING DIVISION CURTAILED

The state has a well developed Division of Mines, under the able management of Walter W. Bradley, state minerologist. He has four branch offices but his assistant engineers are so handicapped from lack of funds that their work is greatly curtailed. Working under Bradley are many mining engineers now out of work could soon arrive at properties suitable for the state's operation. Their reports would be the "stop" or "go" sign on the properties. A favorable report would mean immediate work for large crews of men and as development went forward the installation of proper equipment. New roads would be built, trucking contracts awarded, supplies bought and new cities built to take the place of the mining towns of '49.

In case an extra good property was developed, the state could sell or lease it to private operators on a good royalty basis and take on the development of more prospects, transacting the whole plan so that there would be no loss to the state.

Some time ago the state lent its credit to the extent of $100,000 to the State Compensation Insurance Fund. Since then the Fund returned the loan and now is a big going business with nearly $9,000,000 in its surplus and reserve. The state can go into mining in the same way and with proper engineering and management not lose a dime.

CREW BEGINS WORK ON PRESCOTT HILL MINE

Rehabilitation work on the old Prescott Hill mine, a part of the famous Sultana group on Osborn Hill, which is east of the Empire mine, started Wednesday with 10 men employed.

The 100 foot headframe and ore bins are being repaired at the mouth of the shaft. The shaft, which is badly caved near the surface, is said to be 1400 or 1500 feet in depth on the incline, when the mine was in operation. Surveys are being made for a power line to the property.

This large property was a part of the Crocker estate of San Francisco, and was purchased by the Newmont Company about a year ago. It has lain idle for about 20 years.

N. Y. CAPITALISTS TO OPEN COLUMBIA GROUP

The work of reopening of the Columbia group of claims by New York capital is proceeding rapidly and opening of new territory is scheduled to start soon. The property is composed of the German, Ocean Star, and Columbia claims. They produced considerable ore in early days and large reserves of milling ore are said to be exposed in the old workings, which have lain idle for about 20 years. Plans are to erect a 20 stamp mill and large mine plant.

Re-Elect W. E. WRIGHT District Attorney

(INCUMBENT)

In soliciting the support of the citizens of Nevada County for their consideration and support, I depend upon my merits, qualifications and record of services as your District Attorney and as a citizen of this County.

Since January 1, 1916, the date of my locating my law office here, I have at all times been active in every movement which promoted, or tended to promote, the county's interest, or protected its rights and industries.

Before becoming District Attorney, my faith, confidence, and interest in the County has been fully manifested by purchasing a home for permanency.

Words being inadequate to express my appreciation of the trust and confidence which have been placed in me, I have, to show my appreciation thereof and interest in the County, unceasingly worked for our common benefit, expending my time, finances and ability to the limit thereof, in actively supporting, aiding and encouraging every movement organized for the common welfare.

Recent acts of the Legislature have made many new laws and many changes thereof, which affect our county and state problems as well as increasing the duties of the District Attorney enormously.

Not only is he required to perform the many county duties delegated to him by law, but he is charged with representing the State of California in all prosecutions of all violations of state laws which are committed within the boundaries of his County. He is also the prosecutor for all of the numerous State Commissions, Bureaus, and Boards, and is by law required to co-operate with and aid them in the performance of their many duties and activities in this County.

To do all of these things efficiently and for the greatest benefit to all, requires experience, legal knowledge, good judgment and discretion, all of which I submit I have acquired in performance of the aforesaid multifarious duties as well as by the experience gained in my private practice and dealings.

In doing this work, I have become intimately acquainted with all of the problems of the County and those of each and every district thereof, and therefor am in a position to render efficient services at all times.

By reason of our constant changing conditions, not only will all government officers, but all citizens as well will be called upon to use sound judgment and wise discretion to meet and solve these ever changing social and economic conditions. They can and will be solved to the benefit of all, not however without some difficulty.

I shall, if elected, give my time and ability to aid in the solving of all problems presented, and it is upon my merits, qualifications and the services I have rendered, can and will render, I ask your consideration and depend for your support.

Liver, Stomach and Digestive Troubles

Life is not worth living if you are not well. What is the cause of sickness? We have found it and have the remedy in diet and in Herbal treatment. Two thirds of our sickness originates in our kitchen (the liver, stomach and bowels). When the liver is clogged, congested and diseased the stomach. Intestines and spleen become involved. In turn heart is often affected. The venous circulation becomes congested and clogged, causing high blood pressure and all its dangers and misery.

Symptoms often accompany liver and stomach troubles are: gas, acid and pains in the stomach and bowels, jaundice, nervousness, despondency, piles, rheumatism in any part of the body, gallstones with their severe cutting pains, toxemia and blood poisoning. Should these troubles be neglected they are likely to result in more complicated disease such as diabetes, apoplexy, heart disease, neuritis and other troubles.

The purpose of our treatment is to remove the cause of stomach trouble, to cleanse and restore the liver and spleen to normal functioning, to prevent gas formation, equalize the circulation and lower the high blood pressure. It also builds up the hemoglobbin of the blood, correcting anemia with its pale waxy appearance and tired listless feeling, giving in its place color to the cheeks and life and buoyancy to the body. It is a general house cleaner and rejuvenatoor, sweeping out old aches and pains that have bothered you for years, and leaving the health and joy which should be yours. If you wish to keep young and fit, this is the ideal treatment to take every few years. It is a general renovator and a barrier to old age.

Chinese Herbs have cured many cases of liver and stomach trouble when all other methods have failed.

HAMMILL HAS LONG RECORD OF FINE SERVICE

John M. Hammill, the county assessor, up for re-election, was born of pioneer stock. His grandparents having come to this country in the early '50's. His father affectionately known far and wide as Captain Jim Hammill was one of the early day miners of the Idaho, now the Idaho Maryland mine.

John M. Hammill was graduated from the Grass Valley high school with the class of 1891 and afterwards attended business college. All his life he has spent in Nevada county, all his interests are here and he has been a taxpayer for the past 35 years.

He served as deputy under the late Assessor Henry C. Schroeder during the latter's entire term of office, and was appointed by the board of supervisors to fill the vacancy in the office at the time of Mr. Schroeder's death, August 25, 1931. For the first time then, after years of faithful service, Mr. Hammill is asking the support of the voters, asking for it on the strength of his record made in the last three years.

If he is returned to office Mr. Hammill promises the same square deal and courteous service he has always given the tax payers of this county. He believes that both on account of his long apprenticeship to the late Assessor Schroeder and his three years as assessor, there is no man in the county so familiar with all classes of property values throughout the country as he is.

AUDITOR COMPLIMENTS MRS. AUSTIN'S OFFICE

Many friends of Mrs. Ella M. Austin, county superintendent of schools, recall that when all county official books were experted recently the report of the accountant and auditor was that the books of her department were "in excellent condition, and in exact agreement with the books of the county auditor. All monies collected were properly accounted for, and due credit should be given Mrs. Ella M. Austin for the efficient manner in which she handled the clerical work of her office."

MACK MINES SOON TO START UNWATERING

Bruce Wallace, superintendent of the Mack Mines, Ltd., spent a few of days in Sacramento this week in regard to mining machinery for his mine.

The men are hooking up the electricity and soon will start unwatering the 100 foot shaft. There is a spring on the outcrop ledge and in mining operations a few hundred feet away a large flow of water was encountered. Mr. Wallace plans to crosscut to the main ledge in the bottom of his shaft, cut the flow of water, and drain the tunnel with heavy pumps.

PHIL SCADDEN, CIVIC LEADER FOR MANY YEARS

P. G. Scadden, who is seeking the office of County Assessor in the coming election, is a native of Nevada county and was born in Boston Ravine section. He spent the early part of his life in Grass Valley after he had completed his education. He entered Mulroy's grocery and soon realized his ambition to own his own grocery. Later he sold his grocery. He went into the bakery business. "Scadden's Bakery" is still well remembered by residents of Nevada City. In 1922 he received the appointment of Postmaster of Nevada City, which he held capably for 12 years. His long term as Postmaster has given him a wealth of experience in business and financial matters which will prove an invaluable aid to the people of this county if they elect him County Assessor.

To recount the various groups that Phil Scadden has headed or aided, the hundreds of unsolicited hours he has spent in fostering worthy civic and charitable causes, would require a column of this newspaper. He is a thorough citizen, a man who understands humanity and its problems. As a property owner and taxpayer he thoroughly understands the importance of taxation to the welfare of a county.

If elected to the office Mr. Scadden makes one outstanding promise—he will perform his duties faithfully, untiringly and to the very best of his ability.

STATE VOTERS TO BALLOT ON MANY NEW LAWS

BY RALPH H. TAYLOR

When the primary election hurly-burley's done, and the hectic nomination battles have been lost or won, California voters will all have the opportunity to become legislators!

"Every voter a legislator" might well be the slogan of the general election campaign, for 22 proposed laws, bond issues and resolutions will be submitted direct to the people in the balloting on November 6th.

And the voter who fails to take his legislative responsibilities seriously is likely to pay—and PAY HEAVILY—for his carelessness!

Some of the most revolutionary proposals in the history of direct legislation—including the highly-controversial Syncrotax, which would abolish all present forms of taxation and set up an entirely new tax structure— will go before the voters for their verdict.

Ten initiative proposals, qualified by circulation of petitions; ten proposed constitutional amendments, submitted to the people by act of the State Legislature; a resolution calling for a state convention to draft a new state constitution, and a $30,000,000 bond issue to continue the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Program comprise the slate.

The ten initiative proposals seek to accomplish the following purposes:

Establish a local option system to control the sale of liquor in California.

Strengthen and extend the state civil service system to eliminate 'the spoils system" in the selection of state workers.

Permit defendants in criminal cases to plead guilty before a committing magistrate, except in eases involving the death penalty.

Allow a judge to comment on the failure of a defendant to testify in his own behalf.

Provide for the selection of upper court judges through appointmen by the Governor, subject to confirmation by a special commission.

Designate the Attorney General as the state's chief supervising law enforcement officer, working in close cooperation with local prosecutors.

Create an elective State Board of Education to supplant the present appointive board, and substitute an appointive state director of education for the present elective state superintendent of public instruction.

Create a state naturopathic association as a public corporation to regulate the practice of naturopathy.

Establish the so-called Syncrotax, a gross transactions tax, in lieu of virtually all other forms of taxation. This would be utliized to finance both local and state governments.

A more liberal liquor law, permitting the serving of "hard liquor" in public dining rooms, hotels and clubs, but continuing the prohibition against saloons.

Mrs. Arthur Still, of Tucson, Arizona, is here spending a couple of weeks with her son J. W. Still and family. Mr. Still is superintendent of the Eagle Bird mine.

HEY! SKINNEY! HERE'S A MAN WHAT BUYS SNAKES

Banner Mountain Post, V. F. W., of Nevada City, are preparing for a big initiation into the order of Snaix, an auxiliary order to the United Spanish American War Veterans, at the Legion Memorial hall in Grass Valley on September 2 and 3, Saturday and Sunday. Delegations are expected from Placerville, Roseville, Lincoln, Marysville and San Francisco.

Nevada City candidates are George Von Dornum, George Polkinghorne, and Fred Bitney.

Al Kelliher, who was initiated two years ago, is offering a reward for bull snakes and has a number of small boys on the lookout for them. Mr. Kelliher said it should "pep up" the Roseville candidates so they will step "high, wide and handsome," on this never to be forgotten night. There is to be a parade, initiation and banquet.

Mrs. C. E. Waite was notified on Tuesday that her mother was quite ill in Oroville and was being taken to San Francisco for a specialists care.

E. J. HAVERSTOCK

Supervisor of the Third District

MR. HAVERSTOCK has been a resident of Nevada County in the Washington section for nine years and is intimately acquainted with the problems and needs of the entire third supervisorial district.... He is the proprietor of the Washington Hotel, well known resort for hunters and fishermen.... He was formerly engaged in mining in Graniteville.... He is now and has been for some years a member of the Washington Board of School Trustees.

MR. HAVERSTOCK, firmly believes in giving work on the county roads to as many people as possible, instead of a favored few. He believes that once a year, private roads in the county should be gone over with a grader, for in many cases these "private" roads give access to three or four families, or a mine where a number of men ae employed. If this is illegal, Mr. Haverstock goes on record as favoring an ordinance which will make it legal. He also believes that the Board of Supervisors should publish a monthly report of their doings, as is done in many other counties.

ON THE BASIS OF HIS PAST RECORD OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP AND CIVIC ACTIVITIES AND HIS PROMISE TO GIVE THE COUNTY A PROGRESSIVE AND EFFICIENT GOVERNMENT INSOFAR AS HE IS ABLE, MR. HAVERSTOCK SEEKS YOUR SUPPORT FOR HIS ELECTION AS SUPERVISOR OF THE THIRD DISTRICT.

California Needs Tested Californian Governor

C.C.Young Is Logical Candidate for Office

Do You Want Upton Sinclair Governor of California? If Not, Vote for C.C.Young

Democratic leaders everywhere concede the nomination of Upton Sinclair as their party's selection for Governor. The Republican nominee who is to face Sinclair in the November election cannot have a reactionary record on the issues of labor, old age pension, regulation of public utilities, water conservation and taxation. If his record shows that he has represented special interests rather than the people, no power on earth can stop Sinclair from defeating him.

Which of the two leading Republican candidates can lay claim to this record of progressivism, C. C. Young or Frank F. Merriam?

COMPARE THE RECORDS

Former Governor C. C. Young, from the time of his initial term as an assemblyman in 1909 through the ten years he served in the Assembly, including six years as speaker, through eight years as Lieutenant-Governor and four years as Governor, has a record unsurpassed in its dedication to progressive and humanitarian legislation.

He made a consistent fight for the betterment of working conditions through the Workmen's Compensation Acts.

He initiated and fought, in the interest of cleaner politics, for the many direct primary laws. He believed in stricter regulation of public utilities and payment by them of their share of the taxation burden, as shown by his fight for the King Tax Bill.

He supported legislation providing aid for the needy, aged and the blind.

WHERE WAS MERRIAM?

Compare the record of Frank Merriam in the Assembly and the Senate:

He waged a consistent fight, in the interest of capital, against Workmen's Compensation bills. He voted against stockholders' liability.

He voted in favor of 'boss" controlled politics. He voted against every effort for stricter regulation of public utilities.

He voted against making the utilities, banks and corporations pay the same tax rate as the small home owner. He voted consistently in favor of special interests.

Can a Republican nominee with a reactionary record such as this defeat Upton Sinclair in the final election? HE CAN NOT!

HOW WILL YOU VOTE?

If you do not want Upton Sinclair as the next Governor of California, if you are a registered Republican interested in wielding the power of your vote for the best interests of us all, you will cast your vote for C. C. Young, the only candidate who can beat Sincalir.

There are two main issues in the Republican primary on August 28th:

1. The nomination of a candidate who can defeat Sinclair at the general election in November;

2. The nomination of a candidate, who, if elected, can save the State from the bankruptcy toward which it has been heading since C. C. Young left the Governorship.

Voters should not fool themselves. Sinclair's strength in cities and in the heavy voting southern part of the State, coupled with the division of the anti-Sinclair sentiment among six opposing candidates, makes Sinclair's nomination by the Democratic party certain.

CANDIDATE MUST BE PROGRESSIVE

To beat Sinclair at the general election in November, the Republican party MUST nominate a progressive, one of known progressive record, and one free from special interest control.

The contest in the Republican party is between Merriam and Young. The support of other candidates is spotted and confined to limited areas.

SITUATION AT NOVEMBER ELECTION

Voters should not forget that the name of Raymond Haight will appear on the November ballot, as the candidate of the Progressive and Commonwealth parties. If Merriam is nominated at the primary, with Haight's name also on the November ballot, Haight and Merriam will divide the anti-Sinclair vote between them. The two will cut each other's throats and elect Sinclair.

Voters who want to see Experience, rather than Experiment, control during the next four years, should vote for C. C. Young, the man who left the State government in a sound condition, and who can again restore its stability.

C. C. Young Writes To Nevada County Friends

The editor of the Nevada City Nugget has never given a more whole hearted allegiance than to the candidacy of former Governor C. C. Young. It is given for these reasons: That Young has the intelligence, the capacity, the high integrity, and the experience to fit him for the state's biggest office. Some of his opponents have some of these qualities, but none of them have them all, or in the same measure.

Today was received the following letter from Mr. Young. It is a good letter, filled with that sincere sentiment of friendliness which marks all Mr. Young's communications. It follows:

Mr. H. M. Leete,
Editor, Nevada City Nugget
Dear Mr. Leete:

With the campaign now nearing its end, I express my regret that it will be impossible for me, in the limited time before the primary election on August 28, again to visit Nevada county.

"I desire to assure the residents and voters of Nevada county that I will always remember the cordiality with which I was received on my visits there.

"The confidence of the voters in me was clearly demonstrated in the primary election four years ago. At that time Nevada county gave me a vote of nearly one and one half to one over Mayor James Rolph, of San Francisco, and a vote of nearly seven to one over Mr. Buron Fitts, the District Attorney of Los Angeles and the Southern California candidate for Governor.

"Let it be clearly recalled that in this year's primary all of my opponents are from Southern California. Referring back to the 1930 Primary vote, Mr. Fitts received in this county 265 votes, Mr. Rolph 1306 votes, and my total vote was 1837. This will remain with me as a cherished evidence of our mutual friendship and a testimonial that I trust will be repeated by the citizens of Nevada county on August 28th.

"Just as four years ago, when your Governor, I stand today for exactly the same kind of government and I am the same man as I was when that vote was registered.

"I trust from this that the citizens of Nevada county will repose in me at this election the same confidence they expressed by their votes for me four years ago.

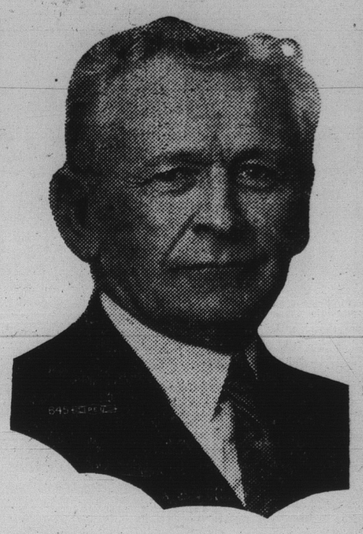
"If again returned to office, I pledge myself to serve the state as carefully and as conscientiously as when I was in the office of Governor four years ago."

Sincerely yours,
C. C. YOUNG.

NOTED WOMEN SUPPORT YOUNG

"We can never forget Governor Young's interest in our Social Welfare program," Mrs. Anna B. Saylor, former head of the Social Welfare Department and Assemblyman, said. "His support of the act establishing separate institutions for women offenders; his interest in providing training classes for children with defective speech; and his surveys and achievements in educational works are monuments to him. His accomplishments in the establishment of a State Narcotic Hospital; his appropriations for the support of orphans and half-orphans; his provision for the care of crippled and handicapped children; and the segregation of young first offenders from older criminals—all these activities entitle him to the support of women throught California."

Among some of the noted women leaders of the state working actively for former Governor Young are: Mrs. Annie Little Barry, Mrs. Paul Sprinker, Mrs. Rawlins Cadwallader, Helen Wills Moody, Mrs. Effingham Sutton, Mrs. Charles N. Stern, Mrs. Louis Holz, Mrs. Frank Mollett,



"Experience-- Not Experiment"

RE-ELECT FORMER GOVERNOR

C. C. YOUNG

His Record Is His Platform

GREATEST STATE TREASURY SURPLUS IN CALIFORNIA'S HISTORY, $31,000,000.00

There is no element of doubt in C. C. Young's candidacy; no question whether he can measure up to the tremendous responsibility of the office. California knows him; knows his remarkable ability as a business executive, his splendid capacity for achieving economy of expenditure through permanency of investment, his unswerving honesty and fairness and his wholehearted devotion to the highest governmental principles.

"Business Management, Not Boss-ism"

Many independent bureaus consolidated into 13 centralized departments.

All worthy veterns' legislation approved.

Initiated legislation making possible construction of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

Aid provided for the needy, aged and the blind; crippled children's program inaugurated.

Capable business men, rather than politicians, appointed to important state offices.

State Park System launched.

"Save the Beaches" Movement inaugurated.

Oil and Gas conservation effected.

Colorado River development forwarded.

Hundreds of farmers saved from bankruptcy by refinancing of reclamation projects.

California at this critical period vitally needs a steady hand at the helm. The governorship is the cornerstone of the whole structure of California business, the state's highest office of public trust. It requires a tried and trusted business administrator, whose training in the state's business is the state's best asset. Sound judgment demands that C. C. YOUNG be elected Governor.

You Can Depend on C. C. Young's Word

He Promises:

To take steps toward a system of Unemployment Insurance for unemployed and their families.

To attempt a solution of unemployment by enlarging public works program to include hospitals and prisons necessary now because of dangerously overcrowded conditions—to include public health—road building—to start the wheels of productive industry—to give consideration to the problem of small industries and business and to establish a permanent State Committee for the purpose of directing, stabilizing, and regularizing employment without charge to employer or employee.

To wage an aggressive and continuous warfare on communism as well as crime and other forms of lawlessness; the best antidote for radicalism is a good job and a living wage.

To balance the budget again as he did when Governor.

To separate the business of government from politics by restoring Governor's Council meetings and reopening them to the public.

To continue plan of aid to aged, blind, crippled, tubercular children.

To urge calling a convention to revise State Constitution which is antiquated, a hodgepodge of amendments and tremendously expensive to operate.

To assist farmers in every reasonable way.

To retain the present program for veterans.

To revise the state tax system to bring relief to home owners and overburdened taxpayers.

MANY CANDIDATES TALK ECONOMY, BUT C. C. YOUNG ACHIEVED IT WHILE IN OFFICE. ELECT THE MAN WHO CAN PULL THE STATE OUT OF VIRTUAL BANKRUPTCY.

READ HIS PAST RECORD

On page 32 in Budget message of the late Governor Rolph in 1931 is proof that C. C. Young left a surplus of $31,000,000 that he legally might have spent. Yet he gave California a service second to none in the United States.

He consolidated many separate boards and commissions into 13 strong State Departments;

He gave the public the first complete accounting of income and expenditures in the State's history.

Built 2280 miles of highway in less than four years.

He left $31,000,000 in the treasury

AND WILL DO IT AGAIN

SCHOOLS ARE BULWARK AGAINST COMMUNISM

Not only in this have our schools a responsibility, but they must also ever seek to develop and strengthen that indefinable thing called character. They must instil and confirm in our boys and girls a healthful regard for honesty and square-dealing and the moralities and decencies of life. FINALLY, THEY MUST ESTABLISH IN THE PRESENT AND COMING GENERATIONS A PATRIOTIC DEVOTION TO AMERICAN INSTITUTIONS AND A VIGILANT WATCHFULNESS AGAINST THE INSIDIOUS ENCROACHMENTS OF COMMUNISTIC, OTHER RADICAL FORCES, SEEKING TO UNDERMINE THE VERY FOUNDATIONS OF OUR GOVERNMENT.

WHICH will you choose for Governor of California--Merriam, the Reactionary from Iowa; Creel, Blanche Bates' husband; Sinclair, the Prize-Winning Novelist and Globetrotter; or, C. C. Young, the Californian who Made Good as California's Governor? One of these men will be Governor of California. Your vote next Tuesday may decide it.

THIS IS NO TIME TO EXPERIMENT

Every one knows that the business affairs of our state are at present in a deplorable condition.

There never was a time in the history of the state when a man of proven ability was so greatly needed in the Governor's chair at Sacramento. The Governor is the manager of all the affairs of the state. The state is a great business organization belonging to all the people of the state. They select the one who is to manage this business by their vote and they should select the best to be had.

Former Governor Young has proved his special ability in over 22 years of active service for the state in its legislative and executive branches.

It is generally admitted that his services have always been rendered to the best interests of all the people of the state.

As a legislator he always supported all progressive and humanitarian measures intended to better the general condition of all the people. As Speaker of the Assembly and as Lieutenant-Governor, he always appointed committees who would help to carry forward such humanitarian legislation. The advancement of the state institutions having to care for the helpless of all kinds, such as our orphans, the mentally incompetent, the crippled, deaf, dumb and blind, always have received his most earnest consideration and support. Pensions for the aged were supported by him.

On practical matters he always stood strongly back of all legislation intended to advance and better the interests of agriculture and all necessary business institutions of the state.

As Governor he was able not only to carry foward this good work but to improve all the business affairs of the state as well. Governor Young was the first to give a complete, detailed statement of all costs and expenses of the state so that every one might know the real facts about the business of the state. He reorganized the scattered departments of the state into efficient working units, eliminating duplication and requiring all departments to work in harmony.

The success of his good work was proven by the fact that he gave us a progressive, humane government and still left over $31,000,000 in the treasury. In less than four years since he quit office that money is all gone and the state is in debt to about the same amount.

This is no time to experiment. California needs C. C. Young's proven experience. Let us put him back as Governor and get our state on an economically sound and businesslike basis once more.

Young Seers Win College Education

For their ideas on the world as it will be 30 years from now, Dana Adams Schmidt of Los Angeles (left) and Monroe Jang of Marysville have been awarded the two $2,000 University scholarships in Bank of America's statewide essay competition on America's development in the next 30 years. Thousands of young Californians vied for the awards. Schmidt will continue at Pomona College, where he is about to enter his sophomore year, and Jang has elected to attend the University of California.

A Pomona College freshman and a Marysville High School student were announced today as winners of the $2,000 scholarships endowed by Bank of America for the two best essays submitted in a statewide competition in which thousands of boys and girls submitted essays.

In competition with essayists of 18 years or under in Los Angeles County and the San Francisco Bay Area, Dana Adams Schmidt 18, of 405 West Adams Street, Los Angeles, was awarded a $2,000 scholarship for his essay entitled "The World Thirty Years From Now."

Monroe Jang, 17, son of an American-born Chinese merchant of Marysville, was adjudged the winner for all of California outside the two principal metropolitan areas. His essay on "Economic and Social Advancements" won him more than two dollars a word.

The scholarship competition was sponsored by Bank of America in an endeavour to determine the trend of thought of young Californians, to discover what plans youth holds in store for the future of the United States, and to stimulate constructive thought. Contestants were invited to submit their ideas on "America in 1964" in the form of essays of 1,000 words or less.

The scholarships were awarded by a committee of judges composed of Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, President of the University of California; Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, President of Leland Stanford Jr. University; and Dr. Rufus B. von KleinSmid, President of the University of Southern California.

The two scholarships will be presented to Jang and Schmidt at the State Fair in Sacramento in the first week of September, by A. P. Giannini, founder of Bank of America and of the Giannini Foundation at the University of California.

In all, Bank of America is making 414 awards in its survey of youthful thought. Essayists whose efforts won he commendation of the judges received a total of $10,000 in scholarships and cash awards.

Young Jang is a product of the California public school system and has already distinguished himself in his school career, having won a high school scholarship offered by the California Scholarship Federation. He has selected the University of California for his Alma Mater and will enter in 1935. His scholarship will be held in trust for him until that time by the bank, and thus through interest accumulation he will actually receive more than $2,000.

Schmidt, who was born in Ohio, received a part of his elementary education in that state. Later he studied abroad, and entered Pomona College in 1933. He plans to use his scholarship to continue his education at that institution. He has chosen journalism as his vocation.

Commenting upon the results of the essay competition, Will F. Morrish, President of Bank of America, said: "The essays were invited as a gauge of the thoughts of the youth of today about the world of tomorrow. The ideas of the young people of today will direct America toward its future, and it is of value to a continuing institution to look to the future.

"The conclusions of the essayists, in the aggregate, offer some interesting deductions. The young people of today are more economically and politically minded than they have been in the past. They are concerned with social problems and are intensely interested in human relationships.

"While they recognize with the cutting clarity of youth the flaws in existing social systems, they are predominantly optimistic about the ability of their generation to solve its problems as they occur. It is encouraging to find that they even foresee an ability on the part of the present adult generation to avert entire chaos.

"The thoughts expressed by the contestants were constructive. There was no communistic doctrine, nor was there radicalism of any sort in abundance. The youth of today is dissatisfied with things as they are, but it is apparent that the desire is for constructive betterment, and not for haphazard change."

YOUNG LEADS IN REPUBLICAN RACE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—Indications from all sections of the state point to a decisive majority for former Governor C. C. Young, for the Republican nomination for Governor in the August 28 primary; according to Richard W. Barrett, northern California campaign manager for Young.

"From every county in California we are receiving reports assuring victory for Mr. Young on August 28," said Barrett. "The people remember that he left a cash surplus of $31,000,000. in the state treasury at the conclusion of a term of outstanding activities and achievements as Governor. They know that he set a new record for efficiency, a business-like administration, and the carrying out of a definite programme of accomplishments. They also realize that he is the one candidate seeking the Republican nomination who is truly independent and progressive, and not dominated by boss rule, or controlled by selfish and special interests

"With the tremendous cash surplus left by Governor Young four years ago now entirely wiped out, and a deficit of $30,000,000 already accumulated, which threatens to reach $200,000,000 at the end of the next biennium, public-spirited men and women of California are determined to have full and final say in the selection of the next Governor. They want an executive who can restore confidence in the state administration, and who has the ability and the intelligence to bring order out of the existing chaotic and bankrupt financial and administrative affairs of state. North and south alike promise substantial majorities to C. C. Young."

At the Young northern California headquarters, 714 Market street, campaign director Barrett and a group of volunteer men and women workers announced the opening of several new district offices throughout San Francisco and the bay district, with legions of supporters of the former Governor enthusiastically campaigning in his behalw. Hundreds of calls have been received here from volunteers offering to actively assist the C. C. Young candidacy; director Barrett reports.

County Recorder

MR. DAY seeks election to the office of County Recorder upon a policy of prompt and careful execution of the duties of the position and an ardent desire to be of the greatest service to the taxpayers of Nevada County. Mr. Day's record as an outstanding citizen and his known business ability make him the logical choice for the office of County Recorder.

At the start of his career he was employed in the North Star mine and later in the Champion mine. When the United States entered the Great War, Mr. Day was among the first to enlist. His record shows that he served eighteen months as a soldier, ten of which were spent as a member of a defense group in North China, near Siberia.

Following the Armistice Mr. Day returned to California and entered the University of California at Davis. After graduating, he moved to Lodi, where he held an important position with a fruit company. Later he returned to Nevada City and resumed his mining work.

A number of years ago Mr. Day married Miss Marille Pascoe, of Nevada City. He is an example of the best type of home-loving citizen, interested in his two children's and family welfare as well as in his community's well-being.

MR. DAY PLEDGES, IF ELECTED, TO CARRY OUT THE DUTIES OF HIS OFFICE WITH EFFICIENCY AND TO GIVE COURTEOUS ATTENTION TO ALL WHO CALL ON HIS AID ON MATTERS WITHIN THE SCOPE OF THE COUNTY RECORDER'S OFFICE.

Freedom of Opinion Makes Public Opinion

Address of Dean Carl W. Ackerman of Columbia University School of Journalism at a special meeting of the California Newspaper Publishers Association in Los Angeles.

General Johnson's address in Chicago recently is a challenge to every citizen who has sworn to support the Constitution of the United States. Speaking as a responsible official of the United States government he plead again for a dictatorship under the NRA. He made statements which are historically and factually inaccurate and which were unquestionably deliberately intended to substitute government-made opinion for public opinion. General Johnson's speech makes the freedom of opinion as important an issue today as the freedom of the press was one year ago and every citizen who cherishes his liberties must decide between the Bill or Rights or government by executive order, the twin brother of martial law.

President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University stated the issue clearly when he said that the first principle of a democracy is that government must be subject to public opinion. Public opinion must not be servile to government. General Johnson is opposed to that principle. He has opposed it ever since he became the National Recovery Administrator and his latest address is a direct challenge to the press to lead the fight for freedom of opinion, for the freedom of public opinion.

FIAT LUX

Historically there is a solid foundation for this public service. The first line of type ever set is said to have been "fiat lux"—"let there be light." The first pamphlet published in the English language, the forerunner of today's newspaper, was printed to warn the people of England of danger of war with Spain. One of the oldest definitions of "publick printing" is "A rare engine for communicating knowledge of the truth." In the United States the newspaper as an institution is older than our Republic, older than the Bill of Rights, older than all modern industries, utilities and most of our educational institutions. Historically, too, the press has been the champion of public opinion for more than two centuries in this country, more than three centuries in England, and until recently, in all other countries where the people have a voice in government.

From the day the National Industrial Recovery Act was signed by President Roosevelt to the present hour, General Johnson has been fighting to control the press and substitute NRA-made opinion for public opinion. The men who drafted that law which gave the President power to license the press not only desired but expected to control the press. Furthermore, they intended to use the radio, which the government can license, to manufacture government opinion. One year ago General Johnson personally asserted at the Century of Progress exposition that with the radio and motion picture he could create a "symphony of action" in the United States. At that time he thought he would be able to control the press and suppress public opinion but the fight of the newspaper publishers of the United States for the freedom of the press in the daily newspaper code deprived him of his opportunity to establish a dictatorshp by law.

UNDERMINING THE PRESS

Today General Johnson seeks to accomplish the same objective by criticizing the press over the radio, in the hope and with the expectation that he can undermine public confidence in news and substitute government opinion for public opinion.

"Why," he asks, "we do not have an undivided press is beyond me." What is an undivided press but a servile press? "I wish," he said, "we could get more general whole-hearted support for NRA." What is that but the wish of a man who would like to dictate?

What General Johnson wants is a press which will take orders, a press which is united for the government and by the government, edited by governmental yes-men who will suppress every opinion not approved by an American-made dictator of propaganda.

JOHNSON'S ACCUSATION

While there is more involved in General Johnson's address than the fate of the press let us consider calmly as newspapermen his specific charges. General Johnson said:

"I have seen news garbled, suppressed and colored and I have seen able young men prostituting their talents in libelous and misleading stories pandered as news at the behest of opinionated bosses."

The American press should make General Johnson state the facts in his possession and submit proof of this indictment. To have a statement such as this enter millions of American homes by radio, sponsored by a high official of our government is a libel on every newspaper in the United States. Are not libel laws for the protection of the press as well as the public?

Continuing, General Johnson declared:

"I protest that it is not freedom of the press to suppress or garble important news of public affairs which happens not to be in accord with some editorial policy or opinion."

ACTION OR EDITORIALS

In these two statements General Johnson accuses you gentlemen and every other newspaper publisher and owner in this country of being parties to the suppression, the garbling and the coloring of news. That is a serious charge which is factually untrue. What are you going to do about it, write editorials or take some action?

Of what value is the freedom of the press to you if officials of your government can make charges such as these over the radio, charges which are deliberately calculated to undermine public confidence in your newspapers, in your policies, in your integrity, in your intellectual honesty and in your independence?

From my knowledge of the newspapers and press associations of the United States I do not believe that General Johnson can prove either statement. Looking back upon 25 years of experience, newspaper work in Europe, the Orient and all parts of this country and as a reader of scores of newspapers regularly, I know that there is not a freer, a more impartial or a more public spirited press in the world than we have in this country. I know the press associations which report and distribute news from Washington to every city in this country are as accurate, fair and impartial as any human activity can be. I know that no man, in office or in private life can buy, control, influence, garble or color the Washington News of the leading press associations.

HONEST CORRESPONDENTS

Furthermore, there is not a more honest and public spirited group of men in the United States than the Washington correspondents of the American newspapers, but General Johnson libels these men as he libels you because he is not specific. He gives the radio audience to understand that the suppression, the garbling and also of the coloring of news is a common practice of newspaper men. That is the same charge Hitler made against the German press before he destroyed its freedom and substituted government made newspapers for an independent press. That is the way Hitler tried to justify his actions. That is the course he followed to create a so-called united nation.

NO DICTATORSHIP IN NRA

Fortunately for the United States General Johnson will never be able to establish an NRA dictatorship because freedom of opinion makes public opinion and the American people are not going to substitute government-made news for the news of free and independent newspapers.

Ever since the newspapers united to fight for the freedom of the press under the NRA, they have been leading public opinion. Looking forward to an unknown and equally uncertain future will the press and should it continue to lead?

The answer to the first half of that questions rests with you, with the newspaper publishers of the United States. Will you lead or will you follow public opinion? In reply to the second half may I submit for your consideration the following observations in regard to the relation of public opinion to government.

FREE FLOW OF NEWS

The free flow of news, locally, nationally and internationally is indispensable in a democracy. Information holds the community together. It makes the United States a united country. Without the minute by minute collection of uncensored and uncontrolled news and its daily distribution throughout the country this nation would be as divided as the continent of Europe. Without the free, full flow of daily news there can be no public opinion because news provides the sinews of pubilc opinion. In the gathering and in the distribution of news the press must lead.

Public opinion in a democracy must have a free channel of communication to the legislative, the executive and the judicial branches of government. It cannot be independent upon the ballot box. It must function and register between elections as well as on election day, otherwise government is not subject to public opinion. It must be able to depend upon that channel every day and at the same time be able to control it. For more than two centuries in this country the press has been the chief channel of communication to government. Today the American people cast more than forty million ballots daily when they buy newspapers. They spend more than a million dollars a day in pennies not alone to read the newspapers but to follow or criticize editorial policies. And they depend upon the press to be their leading channel of communication to every public official.

LEADERSHIP

The press must lead public opinion because it is independent. The NRA does not and cannot control the press. The press is not subject to the influence of any federal appropriations. In its news policies it is wholly independent of politicians. and if it maintains this independence public opinion will follow its leadership.

By independence I mean courageous independence. The press must be independent of big and little business. It must be independent of organized and unorganized labor. It must be independent of government-made news and opinions. It must be independent in order that it may challenge any government policy, any act or any edict of the NRA. It must continue to be independent to print all the news, all facts and differing opinions or the people of this country will experience a nationwide disillusionment which will end in a revolution of action. And it is that kind of action which General Johnson will bring if he continues to claim that recovery and reconstruction depend upon an undivided press, united support of NRA.

PUBLIC EMOTION

Compare the public attitude toward recovery one year ago with today. Last year at this time freedom of opinion did not exist. Public emotion controlled our destiny. The beginning, the middle and the end of the story you publishers know because you cooperated with the newspapers throughout the country in safeguarding the freedom of opinion in a national emergency. That institutional achievement will rank with anything John Milton ever said or did because it restored public opinion as a force in national affairs.

Today the public attitude toward recovery is more wholesome because it is more democratic. Freedom is the most active subject of national discussion, claimed by all speakers, Democrats and Republicans alike, as their trade mark. But the theory and the blessings of liberty are not worth a postage stamp unless applied to the practical problems of the day. That is the responsibility of an independent press.

A courageous and independent press must lead the people to a realization of one all-important fact that democracy rests upon the individual responsibility of every citizen. Recovery depends upon it. Reconstruction is impossible without it. Every New Deal and every succession of new deals which we have had since the Pilgrims landed, depend upon local and individual responsibility. Fortunately for the United States the newspapers in this country are largely local institutions, so that they are in a position to lead public opinion. Fortunately for the future of our country and the peace of our country the press is independent. If it continues to be as courageous as it has been during the past year freedom of opinion will not only make public opinion the master of our destiny but it will master the practical problems of the day which trouble all of us.

OTT ASSAY SHOP HAS INTERESTING EARLY HISTORY

In a brief visit to the office of Assayer E. J. N. Ott, several interesting things, some of historical significance.

An Ainsworth "double o" scales, with button balance, used in the very finest work with a sensitiveness of 5-1,000 of a milligram was first examined. It will weigh particles if they can be seen by the eye. When it is necessary to weigh tailings that go anywhere from 10 to 20 cents a ton, one can imagine the small particle of gold taken to make the scales balance.

If the weight of a flyspeck of gold were recovered from one assay-ton of ore (about one ounce) the ore would go about $20 per ton. In order to get any accuracy it is necessary to use a balance with sensititivity of at least 1-200 of a millegram.

In the assay office Mr. Ott has small bottles containing gold a trifle over $7, an accumulation of gold from more than 150,000 assays made in the past 35 years.

The first ore ever assayed from the Virginia City district of Nevada, that were of any value, were of the great strike that made the city famous, were found by the James J. Ott in his Nevada City assay office.

One of the next great strikes was made in the Meadow Lake district near English Mountain, in Nevada county. The town of Meadow Lake grew to over 15,000 people in a very short time. Some few years after the ores were pronounced rebellious, the town was deserted or lost its population almost as fast as they had come, as the Meadow Lake ores were found to be of no great value. They are rebellious low grade ores to this day even with the modern clorinating and cyaniding processes used today. It was not uncommon a few years ago to go to Meadow Lake and look into the boarded up windows and see billiard cues and balls on tables as they had been left by people deserting the town. Tremendous snow storms visited this section as deep as any in the Sierras. Snow burdens crushed the buildings. About the year 1886, the famous Clark boys were the last inhabitants and they are all dead now. Snow was measured by the Clark brothers and it was found to be 40 feet on the level. There is practically no sign of where the city stood. It is now a part of the P. G. & E. property with the water draining into Lake Fordyce.

Another item of interest was that in 1912 one of the first ore bodies that was discovered in the Washington mining district was by two aviators of Oakland, who came by plane, located their ground, landed in Sacramento, and returnel by car, took samples and brought them to M. E. J. N. Ott for assaying, but it was of no commercial value.

Ott is one of the oldest assay offices in the state of California. It was established in 1853 by the late J. J. Ott and now conducted by his son, E. J. N. Ott. It has been in the Ott family for 81 years. The plant is one of the best equipped for assay and practical mining tests in the state.

The furnishings in the assay office are about as they were when founded but quite a number of additions have been made in machinery to keep it up to date.

Mr. Ott owns the LeCompton mine in Willow Valley and on a table was a round "nigger head" of granodiorite, found in Deer Creek on the property in the 60's and brought to the office where it has remained evere since.

Cases are full of choice nuggets, many of them carrying romantic histories, many specimens of ore from nearby mines are also on display.

YOUNG BACKED BY LEGIONNAIRES IN SOUTHLAND

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 23.—The vote of the war veterans of California will favor former Governor C. C. Young in the Republican gubernatorial primary election next Tuesday, August 28; Leslie K. "Olie", of Los Angeles, past commander of the United Veterans of the Republic and chairman of the American Legion emergency relief council, and chairman of the C. C. Young for Governor southern California ex-service men's committee, predicted today.

"Former Governor Young proved his staunch friendship for the veterans of California, and for the men suffering wounds and disabilities of war, during his incumbency from 1927 to 1931," Olson stated. "He approved bills providing educational assistance for dependents of veterans, replaced the fire trap shacks at Yountville Veterans' Home and other institutions with modern buildings, passed measures enabling veterans to borrow money from the state for the purchase of homes and farms, approved formation of a State Emergency Council, created the State Department of Military and Veterans' Affairs, and fostered other measures aiding the state's veterans of all wars. He left $31,000,000 in the state treasury after a splendid term of progress and achievements."

In Southern California, Olson is being aided by a committee of prominent leaders of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, Spanish War Veterans and other associations, furthering the C. C. Young candidacy. Past state commanders Allen Bixby and James J. Collins, of the American Legion, and past department commanders Al Munson and Carl Green, of the Spanish War Veterans, are active vice-chairmen of the Young campaign.

Col. William H. Tobin, U. S. A., retired, beloved hero-leader of many thousands of ex-service men, is the chairman of the northern California veterans' committee for former Governor Young. John W. Collier, assistant city attorney of Oakland, and famed Legionnaire, Richard P. Flatland, of San Francisco, state vice-commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and past department commander Dan Shertle head the northern California ex-service men campaigners.

Archie I. Rowen

CANDIDATE FOR THE OFFICE OF

County Treasurer and Tax Collector

AT THE PRIMARY ELECTION AUGUST 28,

comes before the electors of Nevada County, as a successful business man and a progressive student of public finance and taxation.

WE have long passed the time when a man's fitness for public office can be gauged by personal feeling or social affiliations.

ROWEN has successfully managed several large California business enterprises. He is an active citizen, a Nevada county taxpayer and is in full accord with the present move to put county government on a thoroughly businesslike basis. ROWEN, backed by his practical business experience and a keen insight into the county's needs, offers to the people of Nevada county, a new deal with DEFINITE and not vague ideas of EFFICIENCY, ECONOMY AND BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION.

HIS PLATFORM:

1. He believes that courteous and considerate treatment should be accorded each taxpayer by the office of TREASURER AND TAX COLLECTOR, with an effort to work out individual problems to the satisfaction of all, instead of making the office a mere clearing house.

2. That definite plans should be made to simplify county government, thereby reducing governmental expense. The office of TREASURER AND TAX COLLECTOR, affords an excellent opportunity in this direction. This is in accord with the best opinion among state leaders.

3. That long term incumbency is not desirable. Certain progressive changes in policy are necessary to the businesslike conduct of the office of TREASURER AND TAX COLLECTOR, and these are seldom adopted unless there is a change in administration. Incumbency does not always mean accomplishment or efficiency.

NOW IS THE TIME TO TIE IN THE COUNTY GOVERNMENT WITH THOSE PRINCIPLES OF THE NATIONAL NEW DEAL WHICH ARE ADAPTABLE TO COUNTY GOVERNMENT.

FOR INSTANCE, LET US HAVE A NEW DEAL IN COUNTY GOVERNMENT IN WHICH PROGRESS, CHANGE, ECONOMY, AND A SOUND BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION ARE KEYNOTES.

A VOTE FOR ROWEN MEANS JUST THESE THINGS IN THE OFFICE OF COUNTY TREASURER AND TAX COLLLECTOR.

BEER AND WINE TAX $163,920

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 20.—Smashing all previous records, California's tax on beer and wine at two cents per gallon amounted to $163,920.22 for July.

R. E. Collins, chairman of the State Board of Equalization, made this announcement here today upon completion of the beverage tax assessment roll for last month.

Increased sales of domestic beer account for the major part of the gain, according to Collins, who pointed out that the gallonage of that beverage taxed in July was 6,627,177, or 421,915 gallons more than similar sales in June. The increase was over 8 per cent.

Beer produced outside the state was taxed last month to the extent of 550,727 gallons, marking a gain over June of 128,585 gallons, or 30 per cent. However, since only 7.5 per cent of all the beer sold in July was of foreign manufacture, it played a relatively small part in the tax.

"Demand for California wines continued to be brisk," said Collins, "and the total of 989,204 gallons assessed last month is 28,141 gallons greater than we assessed in June.

"On the other hand, imported wines subject to the tax have increased only 1260 gallons during the month. The total taxable gallonage of such wine was 28,893 for the month of July."

Collins predicts that if beer and wine sales continue to show such gains, the tax at two cents per gallon may be expected to exceed the annual estimate of $1,500,000 previously made.

"It would not be surprising," he said, "if these liquor taxes should yield $1,800,000 for the relief of the state's general fund deficit."

BREWER SALES MANAGER FAVORS NEWSPAPER ADS

"Newspaper advertising has played a big part in popularizing Acme Beer," said Courtney Barter, San Francisco Sales Manager of the California Brewing Association, in a recent address to the San Francisco Advertising Club. "My company has spent the greatest percentage of its $300,000 appropriation in this medium. How profitable this expenditure has been was indicated by the fact that even though the brewery was closed six days during July because of the general strike, it broke all sales records, selling 16 million glasses of Acme Beer." Barter showed how important the beer industry is to the west, stating that this company alone not only had expended $500,000 in preparation for the legalization of beer, but that the consistent leadership of its product has required a further expenditure of $1,500,000 for plant expansion and equipment, besides paying $2,000,000 for Federal taxes and $195,000 for state taxes. These figures do not take into account the huge material purchases which have added to the prosperity of our great farm lands.

Emil Brisacher, President of Emil Brisacher and Staff, Advertising Engineers, was Chairman of the Day.

GAS TAX TAKES DROP IN JULY

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 20.—Continuing a decline begun last June, California gasoline taxes for July reached a total of only $2,996,922.61, falling short of similar collections for the same month of last year by $323,239.65, or 9.7 per cent.

R. E. Collins, Chairman of the State Board of Equalization, revealed this sharp drop in highway revenues here today upon completion of the assessments by the board against the oil companies selling motor vehicle fuel in California.

Commenting on the figures, he said: "Earlier in the year we had hoped that gasoline tax income might show substantial improvement. During March, April and May encouraging gains were shown.

"However, last June the total tax at three cents per gallon was $270,304.02 less than the corresponding amount for June a year ago. Now July follows with an even greater decline.

"Unless there is a marked gain shortly, the total for 1934 may not be expected to reach the $39,307,352.99 figure for 1933.

"This will mean that after allowance has been made for refunds on account of non-highway uses, the net amount available for road work from this source may not reach $36,000,000."

ALLEGED DRUNKEN DRIVER MUST ANSWER

LUMBER TALKS

When doors have broken hinges
And porch supports are weak,
When windows rattle day and night
And floors begin to creak;
"This house is going to the dogs!"
I wail in tones despairing,
But Henry says, "not so, my dear,
It simply needs repairing."
—A. M. C.

WHY suffer the nerve racking discomforts and inconveniences caused by rattling windows, sagging floors, and leaking roofs? These things are easily remedied; tottering porches and shattered fences are quickly mended. It costs very little to keep the home and premises in perfect order, and to paraphase an old saying, a nail in time saves twenty.

Economize by doing all repair and reconsruction work when it is needed. The Nevada County Lumber Company is ready and eager to assist in all work tending to improve the individual home and increase the attractive needs of this, our county.

RE-ELECT
George R. Carter
Sheriff of Nevada County

SHERIFF CARTER bases his campaign for re-election on a platform of performance and action—not merely promises and words. His record speaks for itself.

Since 1926 he has capably and efficiently filled the office of Sheriff, as evidenced by the large majority he received in the 1930 election.... Since he has been in office he has made 799 arrests ranging from felonies to vicious murders. His studies of fingerprinting and Bertillon identification have caused him to be recognized as an expert throughout the state.... Photographing of all prisoners was started by Sheriff Carter.... Various state justice departments have accorded Mr. Carter much praise for his quick and courageous aid in capturing noted criminals.

Sheriff Carter is a native of Nevada County and has resided here all his life. He is well known in this county for his impartiality, efficiency and courage. He has kept this county remarkably free from lawlessness and has made Nevada County a place that criminals shun when they wish to escape the toils of the law.

Back of Sheriff Carter is his War Record of which any man might well be proud. He served in the American Army during the World War, winning one of the greatest tributes possible to any soldier—the Medal for Bravery under Fire.

Sheriff Carter is a property owner and has been a taxpayer for many years. His name has always been associated with civic enterprise and county progressiveness. Therefore when you go to the polls next Tuesday vote for GEORGE R. CARTER, WHOSE PLATFORM IS HIS RECORD.

SCOOP THURMAN SAYS KEEP GOLD IN CLEAN HANDS

Opposing the plan of his opponent Assemblyman Jesse M. Mayo, that the state operate a mine prison, Allen G. Thurman, Placer county's candidate for the Assembly, goes on record as absolutely against permitting convict labor to enter the mining industry. "Keep the gold in clean hands" he says in a statement issued this week, adding "I believe in protecting the honest labor man and if elected will exert all of my energies along those lines." Thurman's statement in full follows:

"The gold mining industry is now leading the United States out of the depths of depression and I am not in favor in any manner whatsoever of permitting convict labor to take part inthis great industry.

"If the state is to develope mines I would give employment therein to legitimate miners or honest unemployed persons.

"The operation of coal mines by convicts in other states has not proven to the best interest of society; has been an economic failure, and has resulted in riots, loss of life, and calling out of troops to quell disturbances.

'Keep the gold in clean hands!

"I believe in protecting the honest laboring man and if elected will exert all of my energies along those lines."

YEE AND YEE, HERBALISTS, TAKE LARGER OFFICES

Yee and Yee, well known herbalists, have moved into larger and more commodious quarters in Grass Valley. Their former office was 107½ South Church street, and they have moved to 121 South Church. Since establishing their business in Grass Valley a year ago, they have gained a steadily increasing number of patrons, a fact that now makes it necessary for them to move into larger and roomier quarters.

CAMPTONVILLE SAWMILL DOES BIG BUSINESS

Grant and Heether sawmill, southwest of Camptonville, has twenty-three men employed and thousands of feet of lumber have been cut in their big timber tract for the mill this season. Mine development and home building has been growing rapidly.

In recent weeks they have been making deliveries of heavy mine timbers and lumber for surface buildings to the mines.

The Telegraph mine near Downieville, purchased big timbers and lumber for surface buildings; Ruby gravel and quartz property, built a big bunk house and other surface buildings. It seems they are preparing for winter operations.

The Kenton mine near Alleghany has purchased all their lumber from Grant and Heether.

The Alaska mine is using a large assortment of heavy timbers.

Lumber was sold to Lloyd Smith, Mr. Camko and Mr. Olsen at Alleghany for new homes, which are being built at this time.
